TO OBSERVE MEMORIAL DAY
FITTINGLYAn Interesting Program Has
Been Prepared for This Afternoon.W. T. SHERMAN CAMP G. A. R. TO CONDUCT ANNUAL EXERCISES,
WHICH WILL BE PARTICIPATED
IN BY UNITED CONFEDERATE VETERANS AND OTHERS.

Memorial day is to be fittingly observed this afternoon at the national cemetery, when the W. T. Sherman Post No. 21, G. A. R., Sherman Camp of Sons, G. A. R. Veterans, members of Camp Ward, United Confederate Veterans, and Sons of United Confederate Veterans will join in the observance of that day. The W. T. Sherman Post, and the Sherman Camp of Sons of G. A. R. Veterans, will meet at 1 o'clock at the court house, where they will meet the Confederate Veterans, and Sons of United Confederate Veterans. The march will then be formed and the march commenced to the local station of the Pensacola Electric Company. Weyer's band will head the procession. The car will leave the station at one o'clock for Barrancas, stopping at the road east of the naval wall, where a second procession will be formed as follows:

Band.
Army and navy detachment.
Garrison of the Army and Navy Union.
United Confederate Veterans.
Sons of United Confederate Veterans.
Sherman Camp, Sons of G. A. R. Veterans.

Once inside the cemetery, the troops will halt and open ranks, the garrison of the Army and Navy Union, the United Confederate Veterans and Grand Army of the Republic Veterans continuing the march to the monument, and to the right of the grand stand, where a circle will be formed. The troops will then follow, and form on the outside of the circle. The services of the G. A. R. and the garrison of the Army and Navy Union will take place at the close. The salute will then be fired in honor of the dead by one of the military companies from Barrancas. General service will take place from the grand stand.

An exceptionally interesting program has been prepared for the occasion, which will be largely in the hands of some of Pensacola's best known people. Among those who will speak in commemoration of the soldier dead will be John E. Stillman, Frank L. Mayes, and Rev. Charles F. Hall, while Commander J. C. Peterson of the W. T. Sherman Post, G. A. R. will also make a short address. Music will be furnished by Weyer's band, and there will be singing by Miss Beatrice White, Miss E. Wentworth, Mrs. C. Forest, and Mr. Van Winkle. Miss Olga White will recite. An invitation has been extended to the mayor, city official, citizens and all visiting veterans, sons of veterans of the Confederate and G. A. R., to participate in the exercises. All those who attend have been requested to bring flowers for decorating purposes.

A Notable Event.
The exercises, which will take place today will be of the same interest which always characterizes the annual event. Over eight hundred Confederate soldiers are buried in the national cemetery, while double that number of G. A. R. veterans lie in the same burial ground. The graves receive the same attention during the impressive ceremonies which take place on the thirtieth of each May, and the beautiful custom of honoring a nation's dead finds no more impressive setting than at the national cemetery. The events are in the hands of Pensacola people to a considerable extent, and a large crowd will follow the veterans and sons of veterans to the cemetery today.

A Wealthy Young Woman Committed Suicide, Fortune to Companion.

Special to The Journal.
San Francisco, Cal., May 29.—The will of Miss Bertha Dolber, a young woman who possessed of $2,000,000, and who killed herself by jumping from a window of the Waldorf Astoria in New York, on May 19, 1904, was sustained by the supreme court of California today. The will bequeaths the $2,000,000 to Miss Edna Warren, Miss Dolber's nurse and traveling companion at the time she committed suicide.

Suit to break the will was brought by Augustus Schander, an uncle of Miss Dolber. Miss Dolber in her will left all her relatives and some friends other than Miss Warren $150,000. Charitable institutions in California were left $80,000, and Miss Dolber set aside $50,000 for the erection of a mausoleum in Cypress Lawn cemetery. The rest of the estate went to Miss Warren and there is no further obstacle to her receiving the great fortune.

BREAD LINE'S NEW POSITION

New York's Greatest Charity Moves, Carrying the Hungry With It.

Special to The Journal.
New York, May 29.—The famous old bread line established by Otto F. Fleischmann, president of Fleischmann's Vienna Model Bakery Company, at Tenth street and Broadway, thirty-two years ago will be moved a week from next Monday. Grace Church, which owns the property in front of which, night after night, the company has distributed bread free to all who fell in line, has decided to tear down the building, which stands at the northeast corner of Broadway and Tenth street. It is said the space will be used as a garden in connection with the church.

A new bread line will be formed at the northwest corner of Eleventh street and Broadway, where the Fleischmann Company has leased the building from the McCreary Realty Corporation. A cafe and restaurant will be conducted at the new place, and, as in the past, free bread will be given to all who ask for it. Coffee also will be served free on cold nights.

It has been arranged to give a banquet to a large number of invited guests the night the new bread line is formed. There is a plan also to give an entertainment to those who make up the bread line.

Mr. Fleischmann said yesterday: "We are glad to be able to continue this charity, as we feel that many a poor man and woman is helped by it. When we were told that Grace church wanted the property we felt that as long as we had to seek new quarters we must provide also for a new bread line."

the filibuster, but the democrats as a body are as positively opposed to obstruction as the republicans.

Jeff Davis May Help.
At 11:15 o'clock La Follette showed no sign of fatigue. Several times he became very earnest, and taxed his voice more than usual, and it was thought from this that he had relief in sight.

It was learned that Senator Stone, who had gone to his hotel earlier in the evening, left word to be called before midnight. There were all kinds of rumors in circulation, including one that Senator Jeff Davis had telegraphed La Follette to hold out until he reached Washington. This was not confirmed. Republican leaders say they will have a quorum from their own membership tomorrow, and that they will not be defeated by one or two men in a filibuster.

Heat Was Too Much.
In the house today, there was great difficulty in maintaining a quorum, owing to the oppressive heat, and in fact a number of representatives have already left for their homes. A lot of miscellaneous business was transacted, being mostly disagreements to the senate amendments to minor bills. A recess was taken until seven o'clock tonight, when after waiting nearly an hour for a quorum adjournment was taken until tomorrow.

WHALE CAPTURE IN TAMPA BAY

Monster of the Deep is Harpooned and Killed By Fishermen.

The Tampa Times says: "Whale on the starboard, sir," reported Chief Navigator John Langhoff to John Langhoff, A. B., from the middle seat of his dory as she rode the crest of a mild wave on the calm bosom of Hillsborough bay a couple of miles off Palmetto Beach this morning, shortly after 9 o'clock.

"There she blows," said the A. B., and the dory was soon heading for shore, the captain-seaman laying hard on the oars, eager to spread the glad tidings.

He reached the beach and whispered the words to Commodore Bill Lynch. The word was flashed to Tampa, Edli Knight, Arthur Cusack, Algee King, Sam Honacker, W. J. Bailey, H. L. Knight, Robert Keller, Captain Bacom, of the Flanour, John Langhoff, a harpoon and a couple of Winchesters snuggled aboard, with an abundance of real courage, sailed out with both engines going.

They reached the inner bay in short order and sighted the whale disporting himself or herself on the calm surface of the warm water. The engines were reduced in speed and the Flanour stole silently to the side of the leviathan, who apparently anticipated no danger. Captain Bacom offered the harpoon to the gentlemen, but they all deferred to the navigator's superior knowledge of devilish, stings, etc., and so he stood and waited his chance.

The first cast of the 'poon struck the whale at the base of the dorsal fin, and the big black fish started for the bottom of the bay. It didn't have far to go, as any dredge man will tell you. Up it came, and then the gentlemen with the Winchesters, Edli and H. L. Knight, got busy and a plugging match ensued. The whale dove again, leaving streaks of blood behind. A second time up, spouting blood and spume, and then more lead. Captain Bacom let out and took in slack with the aid of the other gentlemen. Soon the lead had effect and the big fish weakened.

It was nearly two hours from the time the Flanour drew up alongside the whale to the landing of the leviathan at the foot of the dock close to the Royal theater, to which point it was towed. Here the fishermen, not having yard room for the overgrown monster, turned it over to Commodore Lynch.

All of the actors and actresses gathered around the carcass together with the entire population of Palmetto Beach. They pronounced it the real thing, but telephoned in to the Times for the marine reporter to come out and tell 'em what species it was. The marine reporter soon landed on the spot and looking wise pronounced it a common black whale of the tropical species. It measures about 25 feet long and weighs several tons.

This is the first whale that has visited Tampa in the recollection of the oldest inhabitants, but whales have been reported from Tarpon Springs recently.

The Mayor of Berlin.
One of the principal requirements of a mayor in Germany is unqualified honesty, for in the municipal administration of Germany graft in any form would not be tolerated. To become the mayor of a city like Berlin the applicant must have established his reputation for efficiency in governing other German cities. His career is carefully scrutinized by the members of the town council who select him, for not only must he be competent and successfully perform the duties of his high position, but still so young as likely to remain competent for many years, for a mayor in Prussia is elected for a term of twelve years and if not re-elected after that period is entitled to a life pension of half the amount of his salary. After a service of six years his pension is one-fourth of his salary and after serving twenty years two-thirds. He need not necessarily be a resident of Berlin at the time of his appointment—in fact, the mayor is usually chosen from the residents of other cities.

Children and Candy.
Give children plenty of pure sugar, taffy and butter scotch and they'll have little need of cod liver oil, says Dr. Woods Hutchinson in Woman's Home Companion. In short, sugar is, after meat, bread and butter, easily our next most important and necessary food. You can put the matter to a test very easily. Just leave off the pie, pudding or other desserts at your lunch or midday dinner. You'll be astonished to find how quickly you'll feel "empty" again and how "unfinished" the meal will seem. You can't get any workingman to accept a dinner pail without pie in it. And he's absolutely right. The only thing that can take the place of sugar here is beer or wine. It is a significant fact that the free lunch counties run in connection with bars furnish every imaginable thing except sweets. Even the restaurants and lunch grills attached to saloons or bars often refuse to serve desserts of any sort. They know their business! The more sugar and sweets a man takes at a meal the less alcohol he wants. Conversely, nearly every drinking man will tell you that he has lost his taste for sweets. The more candy a nation consumes, the less alcohol.
